

GOLF COURSE ARCHITECTURE

Media Information

2024

Welcome

Thank you for your interest in promotional opportunities in Golf Course Architecture and its associated media channels. This document outlines the ways in which you can reach our loyal and engaged readership of golf industry participants.

Many of our sponsors – including architects, construction firms, turf suppliers, irrigation and equipment manufacturers, bunker specialists and a range of other firms that provide products and services to golf clubs – choose to promote their businesses in Golf Course Architecture to showcase their brands and share details of their golf projects to our large readership. But others also support us because they believe that we are a pioneer and important voice in the industry – promoting the craft and expertise of golf course architects and their project partners, and the benefits of engaging with professionals for all types of golf course work.

Whatever your reason, we are very grateful for your support, and look forward to working with you in the months and years ahead.

Promotional packages

The most cost-effective way to promote your business in Golf Course Architecture is to choose one of our four promotional packages, each of which give you coverage for an entire year.

- Our Bronze and Silver packages provide quarter and half-page advertising spaces at a discounted rate, plus free copies of the magazine for you to share with clients and partners.
- If you choose one of our Gold or Platinum packages, you will get advertising space in every issue plus editorial coverage within the magazine and website.

Once you have signed up, a member of our editorial team will contact you to discuss coverage of your projects in the year of your sponsorship.

The prices detailed overleaf for these packages include the cost of our journalists' time – which can include a visit to your projects and writing a report for publication in the magazine (note that travel costs are extra).

Turn the page for more details and pricing for our promotional packages.
